My name is Minuscule and even though I'm not very big, the world around us holds no more secrets for me. I transform into Super Mi to be able to explore it. Want to know what our solar system looks like? Follow me! Let's fly to space!

Cee Cee MIA Author

Originally from Carcassonne, Cee Cee Mia's childhood is spent traveling and writing. Always with a pencil at hand, she writes like she breathes: silently, inevitably. As an adult, she ends up having the best job ever: mother. It's no surprise, then, that her children are her first audience. Today a children's book author with a handful of published stories and a comic book writer, she is also a columnist at L'atelier BD, where she shares her passion for comics.

Julie LECOMTE Illustrator

Julie Lecomte favors digital illustration; several children's book projects have come alive on her tablet... A mother, and previously an extracurricular animator, she knows how to communicate essential messages to children, thanks to her dynamic stroke and her words.

Julie is the author, among others, of a sweet, edifying picture book on autism published by "La plume de l'argilète".
